FIVE AMERICANS HURT

Last Stronghold of Rebels in Nicaragua Yields to Uncle
Sam's Blue Jackets.

San Juan Del Saur, Nicaragua, Oct. 7.—Yankee marines and blue-jackets have "repeated" at Nicaragua.

The town of Leon has surrendered to the American forces.

In their march upon Leon, the last stronghold of the insurrectionists, the American forces, under Lieutenant Colonel Long, ousted a rebel mob at Chichigalpa, killing 13 outright and wounding many more.

Five Americans were slightly wounded. Chichigalpa is on the Nicaraguan National railroad, midway between Leon and Corinto.

Lieutenant Colonel Long and his command were trying to secure arms and dynamite bombs in Chichigalpa last Friday morning when they were suddenly surrounded by a mob of rebels and their sympathizers, well armed with machetes and rifles.

Disregarding the orders of the officers, several rebels fired upon the Americans.

The fire was promptly returned, and in addition to killing the 13 rebels and wounding many more, the Americans took four dynamite bombs which it is believed were intended to be used against them or to cripple the railroad.

Lieutenant Colonel Long's command consisted of 1900 marines and bluejackets from the cruisers California, Colorado and Denver.

The capitulation of Leon, the beleaguered city, from which reports of distress have been coming ever since the rebel occupancy, completes Admiral Southland's aggressive program, which has been put through swiftly since the surrender of General Mena at Granada.

With Granada fallen and Mena, the moving spirit of the uprising, deported to Panama, the admiral and his forces returned to Masara, and it turns out that while one section of the American forces was engaged in routing Zeledon and his rebels from the hills at Barranca, Colonel Long's command was already fighting at Chichigalpa, hard upon Leon.

It is therefore believed here that the strength of the insurrection has been dissipated with the capitulation in such quick succession of the principal rebel strongholds.

President Taft Sunday telegraphed from Dalton, Mass., complimenting the marines and sailors upon their splendid bravery in Nicaragua, and expressing his sympathy for the beleaguered families and comrades of the men who lost their lives.

BECKER TRIAL STARTS TODAY

New York, Oct. 7.—Charles Becker, formerly in command of a strong arm squad of New York police, was placed on trial for his life this afternoon on an indictment charging him with the murder of Gambler Herman Rosenthal. John F. McIntyre, counsel for the prisoner, fought to the last moment for delay, but Justice Goff overruled this motion and at 1 o'clock the selection of the jury was begun.

The first man examined was Philip Herlich, who was challenged peremptorily by the prosecution because he had formerly been a policeman. A recess was then taken until 2:30.

CINCINNATI MAN PLEADS GUILTY IN THE DYNAMITE CASES AT INDIANAPOLIS

Indianapolis Ind., Oct. 7.—Edward Clark, of Cincinnati, today pleaded guilty to the government's charge in the dynamiting conspiracy. As soon as court opened, District Attorney Charles W. Miller addressed Federal Judge A. B. Anderson. "If it pleases the court, the defendant, Clark of Cincinnati, wishes to change his plea following not guilty to guilty."

Clark then stepped forward. "Do you plead guilty?" asked Judge Anderson.

WOMAN ARRESTED LEAVING OHIO PEN

Columbus, Oct. 7.—As she stepped out of prison this morning after serving a one-year term in the penitentiary for embezzlement, Maud Wilber, 21, of Cuyahoga county, was arrested. Detective Wm. Nurnan, of Chicago, is here with a warrant charging the young woman with having embezzled $85 from the Marshall-Field store in that city.

NEWARK PASTORS ARE RETURNED TO LOCAL CHARGES

Columbus, Oct. 7.—The Ohio Methodist Centennial conference closed its session today with the announcement of the following appointments for the coming year: K. M. Courtney of the Zanesville district to succeed Rev. Dr. Herbert Scott. Other superintendents appointed are: Marietta district, Rev. L. Mann; Portsmouth district, Rev. L. L. Magee; Chillicothe district, Rev. W. B. Cherrington.

The following appointments were made: Marietta First church, C. C. Elson; Gilman church, C. M. Hartshorn; Marietta circuit, R. L. Cross.

Newark, East Main street, Charles Laughlin; First church, Rev. L. C. Sparks; West Main street, P. H. Frey.

JOINT POWERS TO END CRISIS

London, Oct. 7.—The Balkan situation is considered today in all quarters as more hopeful. The decision of the powers to take joint action to put an end to the crisis is greeted with satisfaction. They will take steps today or at latest tomorrow to impress their views both upon Turkey and the Balkan states. Austria and Russia have been selected to act on behalf of the great powers at the Balkan capitals while the ambassadors are to take part in the representations to be made to the Ottoman government.

MORE TROOPS ARE WITHDRAWN

Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 7.—Three companies were withdrawn from the martial law zone this morning, leaving 750 men still on duty in the Cabin Creek and Paint Creek strike country. Miners who have returned to work are still guarded by the militia which is being decreased every day. Governor Glasscock and his advisers are working on a plan that is expected to result in the withdrawal of all the militia by the end of the week.

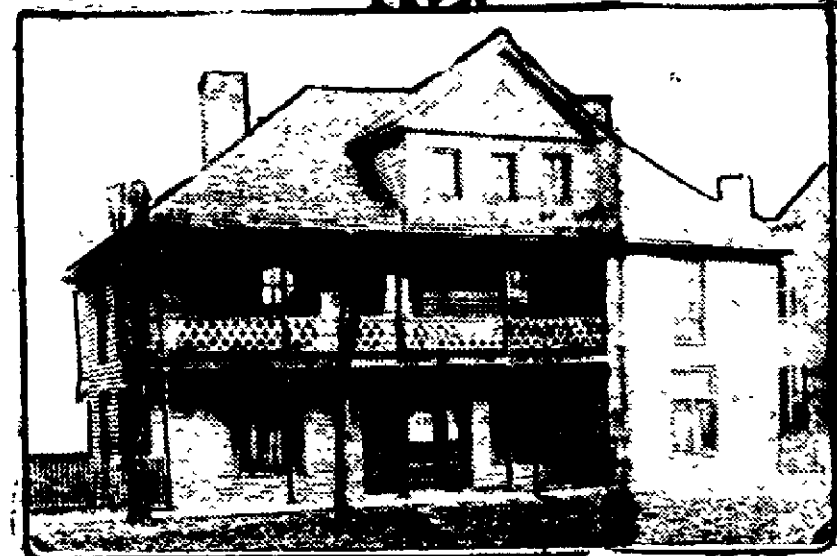

TESTIFY BEFORE CLAPP COMMITTEE

Washington, Oct. 7.—Charles R. Crane of Chicago, told the Clapp committee today that he gave barely $27,000 to Senator La Follette's campaign and $10,000 to Wilson's. Treasurer Hooker of the Progressive party testified last week that Mr. Crane gave $70,000 to Wilson and La Follette at the same time. Six witnesses were to testify before the committee today. They were Lewis Hamling, Ogden Mills and Charles Edward Russell of New York; Charles R. Crane of Chicago; Matthew Hale of Boston, and former Senator Nathan B. Scott of West Virginia.

"BIG" JACK ZELIG IS ASSASSINATED

New York, Oct. 7.—"The death of Zelig at this time is more than a coincidence," is the comment of the district attorney's office on the murder of "Big Jack" Zelig, one of the gamblers who was expected to be a powerful factor in the trials of the slayers of Herman Rosenthal. Zelig was shot down by Philip Davidson, a fruit dealer, who was arrested while trying to escape from the scene of the crime. Davidson alleges that he was held up and robbed of $100 recently and that Zelig was his assailant, but the police are looking for deeper reasons for the tragedy.

"MARRYING PARSON" HOPES TO TIE UP 5,000 COUPLES BEFORE HE RETIRES

Parson Burroughs and his hotel.

The Rev. Harrison Burroughs, the "Marrying Parson" of Bristol, Tenn., recently celebrated his eightieth birthday by marrying his forty-fifth hundredth couple. He believes he holds the world's record for the number of marriages performed by a single individual. Parson Burroughs resigned from the Baptist ministry twenty-three years ago to devote his entire energies to this unique industry. He hopes to round out his career by marrying five thousand couples.

Parson Burroughs is proprietor of what is probably the most famous hotel in the world. It was designed and erected expressly for the convenience of eloping couples. It is situated squarely upon the dividing line between Virginia and Tennessee. Scarcely a day passes that he is not called upon to entertain a number of eloping couples.

YOUNG BOY HELD TO GRAND JURY FOR STEALING AUTOS TO INDULGE IN JOY RIDES

After an exciting chase and a really desperate fight, Chief of Police Blizard, Captain Swank and Safety Director Collier arrested Ray Squiggins, 16, of 450 East Main street, Sunday night, and lodged him at the city prison, charged with grand larceny. In police court Monday morning the lad was held to the grand jury under bond in the sum of $100.

Squiggins is charged with the theft of two automobiles from Sixth street, at the tabernacle. Mr. McCracken's Ford car was stolen Saturday night and Louis Reece's Ford car was stolen Sunday afternoon. Both cars were recovered by the police.

Squiggins is one of the lads implicated in the theft of a car at Buckeye Lake last summer and for this offense he was given a suspended sentence to the Lancaster Industrial School.

According to the story related to the police, the McCracken car was stolen about 7:30 or 8 o'clock. The owner was attending the tabernacle meeting and left his car standing next to the curb on Sixth street. The boy took the magneto key from Dr. J. P. Shai's car which was standing in front of his residence. He used the key to start the McCracken car.

This machine was found Sunday morning at the south end of Bohn avenue, just over an embankment. A resident of that vicinity telephoned the police department that the machine was standing there, and when an officer arrived, he was told that a small boy in a light gray suit and felt hat had been trying to start the car to get it out of the ditch.

The street department had been doing some grading on this street and a quantity of loose dirt at the south end of the street proved too much for the inexperienced driver, and he lost control of the machine.

Efforts of the officers to locate the lad who was doing the driving were not successful Sunday, but their activities were renewed Sunday afternoon about 4 o'clock, when the second machine was reported stolen.

All the officers in the department were provided with the number of the stolen car and a sharp lookout was kept for it. About 8 o'clock an employe of a garage in South Fourth street telephoned to police headquarters that the missing car was in East Newark, where the driver had suffered a breakdown and had asked for assistance.

The chief and captain hurried to the scene in Safety Director Collier's car and when the officers arrived, Squiggins and his companion took to their heels. Squiggins was overtaken by the officers and put up a stubborn resistance. His companion escaped.

When arraigned before Mayor Swartz, Squiggins denied that he had taken the car, blaming the whole of it on his companion, but refused to reveal the latter's name.

His remarks to the mayor indicated that he is a brazen youth and that he had not the least regret for his part in the trouble.

Last Friday night a Brush runabout owned by Homer Dickson was stolen from in front of the Auditorium and was found later east of Scadden's bridge. Whether Squiggins was implicated in this theft has not been determined.

AEROPLANE FLIGHT DID NOT OCCUR SUNDAY AFTERNOON ACCORDING TO SCHEDULE

Several thousand people who expected to see aviation flights from the Wehrle field Sunday afternoon were disappointed when Manager Berger of the Berger Aviation Co refused to allow his bird-man Archie Freeman, to make the promised flights. The refusal was the outcome of a controversy that involved nearly a dozen people before it was concluded and Berger had left town for Baltimore, Md., where he is scheduled to stage an exhibition late this week.

The aviation manager visited all parts of Newark Saturday night and Sunday morning in an automobile. Through a megaphone he announced the intention to hold "five exhibition flights" from the "fair ground" and the general public was invited to attend. It was his intention to charge an admission fee from those who wished to get closer to the machine and watch its workings, and hundreds of factory men who had no opportunity to see the flights earlier in the week, took advantage of this opportunity to get in touch with the great scientific marvel.

Members of the fair board, prompted by telephone messages from ministers and others who protested against the movement for Sunday aviation, agreed to prevent the fair grounds being used for the purpose and refused to permit tickets to be sold for the event. Attorney Edward Kibler, representing the fair association, and T. E. Adams, superintendent of the grounds, were accompanied to the fair grounds on this preventive mission by Sheriff Slabaugh, who was ready to prevent any excitement that might follow Berger's failure to make the promised flights.

Only 100 people had entered the grounds through the regular gate before the fair authorities were able to close it against the crowds and refuse to sell tickets for the flight, and Berger soon saw his prospects of a few hundred dollars easy money vanishing. He immediately called all flights off and began to prepare his machine for his trip through the city streets to the Panhandle side track, where it was loaded.

The attitude of the fair board members in the matter is evidenced by their communication to Dr. Lyon Sunday, which is appended hereto: "Dr. Lyon.—If you kindly announce that the Locking County Agricultural Society does not approve of any aeroplane ascensions being made on Sunday and will not permit same on the fair grounds.

(Signed)
BEN B. JONES, Vice-Pres.
T. E. ADAMS,
Superintendent of Grounds.

Berger narrowly escaped arrest on his return from the fair grounds when he passed the tabernacle in his automobile and shouted remarks through his megaphone. The disturbance of the Lyon meetings was taken up by the ministers, and Rev. Thomas H. Warner of the Plymouth Congregational church, followed Mr. Berger to the Panhandle depot. There Berger acknowledged that he was responsible for the disturbance but said in substance, that Dr. Lyon had put his show out of business and caused him to lose $1,000, and that he thought he was justified in "getting even with Lyon."

There were many of those present in the various services who thought that an example should be made of the offender, but at a meeting of the ministers held after the afternoon meeting it was decided that Berger should be allowed to leave town unmolested, but that a warrant should be issued should any one in the future disturb the revival services.

MANY FARMERS NOT FOR TAFT

Columbus, O., Oct. 7.—Chairman Brown, of the State Progressive committee, points out in a statement made by T. C. Laylin, of Norwalk, which is as follows:

"Theodore Roosevelt will receive a majority of the votes cast for president by the farmers of Ohio." Mr. Laylin ought to know something about it as he is master of the Ohio state grange, and in the last two months has been pretty well over the state attending farmers' picnics, field meetings, grange rallies and county fairs.

He said: "I can't find any farmers talking for Taft or standing up for his administration. The Republican farmers are almost unanimously for Roosevelt and the Democratic farmers are somewhat afraid of Wilson on account of his free trade proclivities. While there will be many Democratic farmers against Wilson, I think the majority of them will be held in line by their party, but enough will vote against him to offset the Republican agriculturists who vote for Taft, so that I feel confident I am stating the fact in saying Roosevelt will have the support of the majority of the farmers of Ohio."

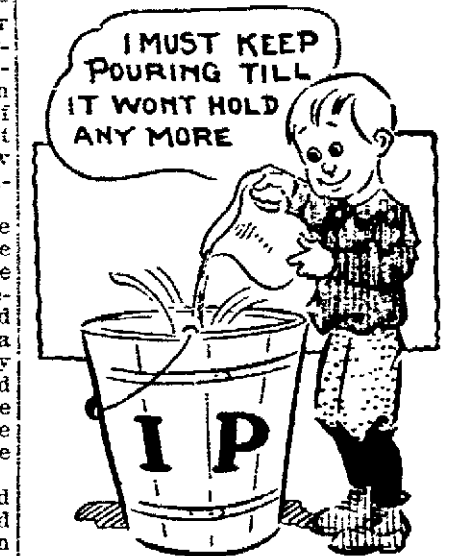

NEW YORK'S BETTING ODDS ON WILSON

New York, Oct. 7.—Election betting in the financial district was very quiet Saturday, far more interest being displayed in the coming world's series of baseball games. Odds on the presidential outcome have been unchanged for several weeks and the little interest which was infused by the nomination of the state candidates has about run out. Governor Wilson is still a 3-to-1 favorite, with President Taft at 1 to 3 and Roosevelt 1 to 4. The State Democratic ticket is favored by a majority of betters and odds are the same as on the national ticket. Positions for the other two parties, however, are reversed in the state, with Straus slightly more in demand than Hedges. The odds are about 1 to 3 for Straus and 1 to 4 for the Republican.

IS CHARGED WITH QUADRUPLE MURDER

Quincy, Ill., Oct. 7.—Ray Pfanschmidt, 22, was today arrested for murder in connection with the Pfanschmidt quadruple murder case. The formal charge is that of the murder of Blanche Pfanschmidt, a sister of the accused young man. The father, mother and two sisters were slain.

TOMORROW'S SERVICES.

SPECIAL
Arrangements have been completed for the serving of business men's lunches in the First Presbyterian church every day from 11:45 to 12:45 o'clock. The cooking will be done by women's societies of the churches of Newark and will be "the kind that mother used to make." Each luncheon will cost 25 cents. Every one is cordially invited. The first luncheon will be served Tuesday noon, when Dr. Lyon will deliver a 15-minute talk on some subject particularly interesting to the men of Newark.

A great thing has happened in Newark, something that the outsider finds hard to understand, something that promises great reforms for the future, something that is calculated to make the lives of men more thoughtful, more kind and more resulting in their power. In spite of the dogmatic criticism that has been prevalent against the tabernacle meetings, Dr. Lyon has convinced the scoffers that he means business, and in the past 48 hours, in five meetings, the counterpart to which have never been known in Central Ohio, 109 men and women have forsaken the road that leads to a death in sin and accepted as their leader, the eternal Christ. One hundred and fifty-nine children, their faces resplendent in that simple faith that impelled the Master to bid them come unto Him, at the Saturday afternoon meeting heeded Dr. Lyon's call to confess Christ, and as they filed in ones and twos and threes to the front of the tabernacle to accept the hand of the kindly-faced evangelist who had carried to them the gospel of Christ, the Kingdom of Heaven seemed full to overflowing with its great grace.

The statement may be made that a large share of those who professed conversion and remained for the after-meetings, when they freely and gladly gave their lives into the keeping of the Master, "are just back-sliding church members and will back-slide again." This is not so. At the men's meeting yesterday afternoon, which was attended by 2500 citizens of Newark, many of those who came forward were hard-working factory men, men still wearing their working clothes, but convinced of the errors of the lives they have been leading. There were some business men in the crowd that walked down the sawdust trail, men who will hereafter give their fellow men a square deal and expect fair treatment in return. There were a few boys about the age of 16, who gave their promise to forsake anything in their lives that might tend to make their characters weak in power and effectiveness. And surely, there could be no finer sight than that witnessed at Sunday night's meeting, when four young men, whose faces denoted strong potential possibilities, arose in a body in the rear of the building and gave Dr. Lyon their hands.

There is power to be found in a surrender of the will to the guidance of the Supreme Being. It has been vastly interesting to notice that those who have begun to taste of the pleasures of the Christian life are going out and bringing others to Christ. One member of Professor Mitchell's choir, one of the most cheerful girls that one could wish to find, is not content with singing any longer. As soon as the opportunity arrives for her to leave the platform she begins her personal work among those who are unsaved. The result has been that she has directed six persons to Christ since her own conversion a few days ago. As she sat with one of her girl friends on the mercy bench last night, her kind arm comfortingly placed around the other's shoulders, one could not help uttering the conclusion of that great-est of all prayers, "For thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory." One young man, brought to a realization of his sins last night, arose while the invitations were being continued by Dr. Lyon, stepped to the rear of the tabernacle, where he conversed earnestly for several minutes with another young man, bringing him a little later to the gathering that was then calling upon Jesus for strength to continue the higher life. This counsel of Christ is a great counsel; it makes men think in a retrospective way, and when a man reflects his past life upon the screen of the future, there is so much possibility of his going to an eternal punishment that the wisdom of accepting Christ as the Savior is only too evident.

The crowds at the meetings have been the largest in the history of the Lyon revivals. Last night over 5000 persons were in the tabernacle. Every seat was filled, crowds stood in the rear of the building, and use was made of a few chairs on the singers' platform for the accommodation of those who had arrived late. Sunday morning's attendance is conservatively estimated at about 4500, while Saturday night's audience numbered fully 3500 persons. There has been throughout the meeting that spirit of good will and reverence for the work of the evangelistic party that augurs great results, and if the crowd increases in the same proportion with its increase in other cities where revivals have been held, overflow meetings will have to be arranged before the close of the present week. Just where these will be held has not yet been decided, but one of the churches convenient to the tabernacle will no doubt be secured, or possibly outdoor meetings will be arranged and conducted by Judge Holloway and a staff of ministerial assistants.

Last night's musical program was splendidly arranged and contained all

CHARLES O. REID, FRATERNITY MAN, IS EXONERATED

Cleared of Charge of Embezzlement in the West—Well Known in This City.

Charles O. Reid, the young man from San Francisco who organized the Alpha Pi fraternity in this city several years ago and also in several other Ohio cities, and who was arrested at Martin's Ferry in July and returned to San Francisco on a charge of embezzlement, has been acquitted.

Mr. Reid was charged with embezzling money and diamonds from Mrs. Caroline Swears, but witnesses sworn at the trial that the woman could not be believed under oath, especially when the case had anything to do with money.

Mr. Reid has been the honor guest at a number of social events here as well as at Columbus, Zanesville, Cambridge and Wheeling, W. Va., and his arrest at the time created a sensation in local fraternity circles. His exoneration of the charges against him will be pleasing news to his friends and acquaintances in this city.

FEDERAL TROOPS DRIVE OUT LOOTERS

Mexico City, Oct. 7.—Cholula was cleared of the Zapatista looters by the federal troops early today. The reinforcements from Puebla, a short distance away, succeeded at the second attempt in driving them out after an engagement in which the casualties probably numbered less than 50. The rebels who are estimated to have numbered probably 200 carried away a quantity of loot, including 35 rifles. A number of dynamite bombs were used during the fighting.

RED SOX HELD PRACTICE TODAY

Boston, Oct. 7.—The Red Sox tried their batting eyes and their fielding ability in light practice at Fenway park this morning prior to their departure for New York later in the day. It was their last day of preparation for the world's championship baseball series with the New York Giants before the opening game tomorrow.

of the children's favorites, as well as those enjoyed by the "grown up." And how those 5000 voices rang in the melody of "The New Glory Song," "The Whole Wide World for Jesus," and "I Love to Tell the Story." The children's especial offering for the evening was "A Little Talk With Jesus," and was rendered superbly by the 200 or more youngsters in the front rows. Prof. Mitchell aroused the applause of the great audience by having a little girl of about seven years of age sing a verse of the song and later sing the verse and chorus with a boy of about her own age. The effect was fairly astonishing. The children had no fear whatever of the crowd before them and sang the words of love of their Savior with an earnestness that carried its own interpretation and convincing power.

Mrs. Grace Powell's solo for the evening was that great masterpiece by Campton, "The Ninety and Nine," which tells of the great love of the Master for the one lost sheep, the dancers and trials he will go through to bring that one to the fold and his joy in finding and rescuing it. Mrs. Powell's voice was in splendid condition last night and met every demand of the wonderful solo in unison with the male voices. Her recorded applause that lasted for fully three minutes, so vividly had she portrayed the plan of redemption by her interpretation of the solo.

"This is the greatest audience we ever had in a tabernacle in this country during the last ten years," said Dr. Lyon, in commencing his sermon on "Excuses." "And we have only just got started."

The text was taken from Luke 14:18, that well known story of the Master who had prepared a great banquet and invited all his friends, but they "with one consent began to make excuse."

"Before I go on with my sermon, I want to refer to malicious disturbances that we have had in the tabernacle today. I want to say for the sake of the police, and the police authorities are with us in this, that kind of business has to stop. There have been threats coming to us that someone is going to burn down this tabernacle. Friends, there are fifty business men of this town interested in this building, and if it would cost them every dollar they have, they would follow to the end of the earth a man who would try anything like that, and that man would be landed behind prison bars. We are going to be real kind and sweet, but the chariot of God's power is rolling on here in Newark, and woe to the man who tries to stop it!"

The speaker showed the utter foolishness of making excuses. "There is a difference between reason and excuse," he said. "A reason is just cause for doing a thing. An excuse is something people give when they have no reason, or when they do not want to have their real reason appear. An excuse is an impostor. All excuses are lies."

The very apparent inconsistency of buying land or burning sheep, as the Master's parable relates, without first inspecting them, was shown by Dr. Lyon and the foolishness of such excuses portrayed. "But the third was the most foolish of all. He had got married. If there are any fellows that can get put up like a poisoned pup, it's the fellow that just got married. He couldn't go? Why didn't he bring his wife along with him? She would have enjoyed that banquet as much as he did!"

"Aren't the excuses that people are giving today just as frivolous, and as foolish as these."

"Someone says, 'There are so many things in the Bible that I cannot understand.' Of course there are, but there are lots that you can understand. You can understand that you are a sinner, know that you are lost, but can be saved. Don't let what you don't understand keep you from Christ. Believe your beliefs and don't let your doubts. When you are eating fish and come to a bone, you just put the bone to one side, don't you?"

"I have some sympathy with the honest doubter," continued Dr. Lyon. "But I have no sympathy with one who tries to hide his sin under the cloak of his unbelief." The speaker then suggested that instead of the Greek word for unbeliever, "agnostic," the Latin word should be used—"ignoramus." "It means the same thing, and it's sometimes best to answer a fool according to his folly."

Another common excuse for not becoming a Christian is, "I don't believe in the Bible because of inconsistencies." Dr. Lyon carried his argument against this by resorting to a humorous analysis. He told of an unbeliever who for years had confused the ark of the covenant with Noah's ark, and couldn't believe that Moses could carry such a large structure through the wilderness. "Reading the Bible is like riding a bicycle on a dark night," said the speaker. "The lantern will throw enough light just a little ahead of you to keep you on the right track. Put into practice what you do understand, and pretty soon you'll understand more."

"When you are born again, when you become a member of His household, then the Bible will become a new book to you," Dr. Lyon added, as he told of a young lady who was not interested in a book presented to her until she had met its author and had fallen in love with him. "Then she took it up and read every word eagerly," he related. "It was because she was acquainted with the author. Friends, if you will forsake your sins, turn to and receive Jesus, the Bible will become real to you."

One of the most prevalent excuses is "there are so many hypocrites in the church." "I always feel like the old minister who was given this excuse one day and replied, 'Well, there's always room for one more. Come on in.' "It won't mend matters if you stay outside and grumble. We have a right in the church to have one hypocrite in twelve; in that little band of disciples that followed Jesus there was one traitor. Because Judas was a traitor, was nothing against John or James or the others. Is it reasonable or fair to go into the forest of God's people, pick out the gnarliest stick in the whole lot and hold him up as an example."

"Suppose there was war against Newark and the mayor should order every able bodied man into the trenches to defend the city. Suppose the man next to you should desert, prove a traitor and join the enemy's forces. Wouldn't that be just the more reason why you should do double duty?"

Dr. Lyon told of a Chicago atheist, "as stinging as his father the devil," who sent for a preacher when he was dying, asked the preacher to pray and gave him a $5 bill. The sick man recovered, insisted on getting the money back, and spent the rest of his days in damning the church members and preachers and calling them a pack of hypocrites. "Suppose you found a counterfeit bill in your pocketbook. Would you say that you would never trade with another bill in your life, and burn the whole business in the street? No, of course you wouldn't. You have too much common sense for that. Did you ever know anyone go into a community and trying to get into the good graces of the people by claiming to be an infidel? No, he claimed to be a Christian. That very fact shows that there is a genuine! Are you hiding behind some hypocrite? Then, you must be very close to that hypocrite to be able to hide behind him."

"Wouldn't it be better to spend a little time on earth with the hypocrites than to have to spend all eternity with them hereafter?"

"Some people say I am not so very bad," continued Dr. Lyon. "You are not condemned for badness. You are condemned for rejecting Jesus Christ. You say that you'll take chances." Friends there is no chance about it. It is a sure thing, one way or the other, between salvation and damnation there is a barb wire fence and you can't sit on it. You are on either one side or the other."

Another excuse discussed by Dr. Lyon was, "I'm afraid I couldn't hold my own in the aboriginal exercises any body ever offered. This is the limit." Said Dr. Lyon, "Suppose a Licking county young fellow was courting his best girl and told her that he loved her, and would like to be her husband if he thought he could hold out. Why, if you don't love her more twenty years after you're married than you did before, there's something wrong with you—or with her."

At this point in his sermon, Dr. Lyon stopped long enough to hand a little personal advice to a young fellow who was "chickening out" and whispering to his best girl out there in the middle of the auditorium.

Resuming the thread of his discourse, Dr. Lyon remarked, "You have to live anyway, whether you are a Christian or not. You'll have your temptations anyway. You'll have your problems and your burdens, your sorrows and your trials. Becoming a Christian doesn't put these things into your life. It merely helps you bear the responsibilities that you already have."

Drawing a simile in the supposition that an engine could develop enough steam before leaving Chicago to carry a train all the way to Newark, Dr. Lyon suggested that "if you would cut down the love of the world, to carry you through to glory before you started in the Christian life, you'd bust your little soul all to pieces."

"God gave the children of Israel fresh manna every day. That's the way he does things."

"Other people will say that they have to give up too many things if they become Christians," continued the evangelist.

"There is only one thing that you have to give up and that is sin. Give it up while you can, for sin will blight and blast and damn your soul. If you will give your heart to Jesus in the days to come you will look back and smile at your own foolishness that you would let anything stand between you and Christ."

"Are you allowing some questionable pleasure in your life to keep you away from God? Let the love of God come into your heart and these things will drop away."

The speaker compared a man who offered such an excuse with the soldier in the Civil war who was to be shot for stealing while on a foraging expedition. He had stolen apples and on his way to the execution munched on the fruit, and when he was questioned, replied that he "had paid dearly enough for them" to be allowed to eat them in peace. "Aren't you paying too big a price for sin," asked the evangelist. "Aren't you paying dearly for the ashes and sorrows of Sodom, if you are paying for them with the blighting and damning of your soul?"

In closing, Dr. Lyon considered the man who professed to be "not yet ready to be a Christian." "Do you ever really realize what you mean by that? It won't work," he said. "The law of habit comes in and whatever you say you'll do, you'll do. You'll reject Him tomorrow and the next night and the next, and so on. The further you go from Christ, the faster you go and the harder it is to turn, and at last you reach that place where you lose all desire for salvation."

This masterly discussion was followed by Dr. Lyon's invitation for souls to come to Christ, and as he stood on the base of the big platform, pleading with men and women to take a stand for Christ, there came down the center aisle, fairly running in his eagerness to show his acceptance of the Master, a stalwart workman, a tall, broad, earnest man, who was manifesting the mental agony in which he had been placed by the revival spirit that has infected Newark. He was followed by fifty others, and the prayer that went up from their hearts in the brief after meeting, asking for forgiveness of sins, was one of the most impressive services held in this city.

MEN'S MEETING.

Dr. Lyon's talk before the men of Newark yesterday afternoon was a plain, heart to heart discussion of the temptations that assail man in his fight with the "tizer of temptation." It was not evasive in its terms; Dr. Lyon doesn't do things that way. Every sentence was ringing with a great truth, and those who were there were forced to admit its power. There were many who became hot and uncomfortable during his scathing rebuke of their vices, but many of these were numbered in the forty-four men who came forward at the close of the meeting and professed their belief in the religion of Jesus Christ.

The song service was strengthened by the appearance of about a hundred students from Denison University, who appeared on the platform and aided the men's choir. "The Church in the Wilderness," with its charming solo obligato for the first tenors was accorded the greatest applause of the service, with the solo by Prof. Mitchell—the ever-pleasing "Holy City"—arousing a fair share of enthusiasm.

Dr. Lyon's plea for a "big collection" was well heeded. "Lots of men are like the man in a story I heard of the other day. His little boy was playing with a neighbor's boy and the latter said, 'My pa has your pa beat. He asks blessing every day at dinner.' 'Aw that's nothing,' the other replied. 'My pa pays for what we eat.' The collection was one of the largest of the series, totaling $122.85. At the women's meeting in the First Methodist church, a collection of $34.38 was taken.

Dr. Lyon's theme was taken from 1st Corinthians 15:32—"If, after the manner of men I have fought with beasts at Ephesus," Paul referred in this to his struggle against the Uger of temptation.

"I can imagine the foody-goudy creature that has had no temptation," said Dr. Lyon. "I am sure that isn't you or me. I am sure that if you know your own life as I think you know it, you will honestly admit the fact that you have been tempted and are being tempted every day."

"Why are we tempted? If we were without temptation we would not have the nobility of character. It is the richest soul that produces the greatest number of weeds."

Dr. Lyon then showed, by the gospel, that the three promises to him who overcomes temptation are "purity, permanence and power."

"There is the temptation to fly off the handle, to get mad, to cuss and to swear," he continued. "A man that swears sells himself to the devil for the cheapest price on God's earth. He doesn't even get temporary pleasure for selling himself to Satan. He shows that he has no respect for himself, for his fellow man or for God."

"There is the temptation of gambling, and I am told that this one of the curses of your own city, that you have quite a number of places above those booze joints where they are running a quiet game, and where more than one fellow that is here today has been fleeced. Some of these young men think that they can 'buck the tiger' and win. Those gamblers aren't in business for their health. They are in the business to fleece just such woolly lambs as yourself."

Dr. Lyon's prize story for the day was of two gentlemen of Hebrew extraction, who went to a gambling joint where one, by the usual process of winning for several games, then lost all that he had. His companion, seeing the loser fall to the floor in a faint, rushed out to get a doctor. He met a man with a grip, laid the case before him and begged him to hurry. "But I'm a veterinarian, the physician replied."

"Then you are just the man I need. Ahey is just a ——— jackass," replied the Hebrew earnestly.

"You have a lot of jackasses here in Newark," commented the evangelist. A man that gambles and wins is a thief, but a man that gambles and loses is a fool; take your choice."

Dr. Lyon then called attention to the temptation that is brought on by physical appetites. "That fact is, that an average man in these days is a big, overgrown baby," he stated. "They are merely creatures of appetite. If their wives, daughters and mothers were guilty of some of the filthy practices, that many of them are guilty, they would be so ashamed of themselves that they'd want to hibernate all year long."

"You can't keep a double standard in society. Either men are going to take the same plane of purity and cleanliness that they demand of their daughters, mothers or wives, or the level of womanhood is going to be degraded to the level of the men, and in many cases it seems to be leveling down instead of a leveling upwards."

"You can be a Christian and use tobacco," added the speaker. "If God had intended you to smoke he would have put a chimney on top of your head. Who ever heard of a man building a house with no place for the smoke to go out except the front door?"

Dr. Lyon then scored the cigarette evil. "Either America has to drive out the cigarette or its civilization is doomed," said Dr. Lyon. "The physicians over the country who are examining our boys say that there is scarcely a boy who is addicted to the cigarette who is not diseased in both mind and body, until soon he doesn't seem to know whether he is doing right or wrong."

"Men, would it not be better for you to deny yourselves of your indulgence for the sake of your influence on your sons?"

"With the cigarette, the nicotine is inhaled into the lungs and carried by the blood to every part of the body," continued Dr. Lyon. "Just let a cigarette smoker be put on the arm of a blood sucker and in fifteen seconds that blood sucker will turn yellow and drop off from the poison in that boy's body."

Dr. Lyon then commented on the effect of cigarettes on the "brains," saying that he never knew of anyone with any brains that ever smoked cigarettes.

"Shun the fellow that tells the dirty story as you would shun the Asiatic cholera, or the very pit of hell itself," said the evangelist, as he entered on a scathing denunciation of the social evil of the day, and particularly of the licentiousness. At the close of his sermon, when he asked those who were willing to be knights of the twentieth century and treat every woman as he would treat his own mother, wife, sister or daughter, there was not a man in the vast audience that remained seated. The noise of their rising was as the noise of an army making a sudden advance, and when the great invitation for men to take up the cause of Christ was given, there was no hesitancy as the scores came forward and took Dr. Lyon by the hand and knelt in many instances, acknowledging that they had fallen into sin and yielded to temptation in the

NEWARK HIGH SHUTS OUT COSHOCTON

Coshocton, Oct. 7.—Battling gamely against overwhelming odds and with four of their regular men out of the game, Coshocton lost Saturday's game on the fair ground gridiron to the Newark High school eleven by the close score of 6 to 0.

The Coshocton line was one of the weak places when the locals carried the ball and the forward pass was the only consistent ground-gainer after the first quarter.

The Newark team showed a wide knowledge of the gridiron game and all sorts of trick plays were unworked at the expense of the locals. The bucking and running of the Newark backfield resulted in steady gains and it was only when the ball was pushed close to Coshocton's goal posts that the locals strengthened and held for downs, several times regaining possession of the pigskin and booting it down the field into safer territory.

The forward pass was worked to advantage by the Coshocton players with Capt. Sauvel at the receiving end of the pass. Long passes by Secret were caught by the Coshocton captain and the locals rarely failed to make a good gain by this method.

The Newark line proved almost impregnable when bucks were tried and it was only at the first of the game that Sauvel managed to push through from gaining on cross bucks.

BLACK'S KICKS HELPED DENISON

Granville, Oct. 7.—One of the many surprises that occur in football happened here Saturday afternoon when Denison's team defeated Ohio Wesleyan's eleven by a count of 6 to 6. This victory was sweet to the winners, who went into the contest with the intention of revenge for last year's defeat at Delaware.

From the start of the game until the end, the Denisonians were never in danger of losing, and had it not been for a fumble on the 10-yard line the visitors would not have scored. It was the fine work of Rupp and Black that gave Denison the victory.

Black was the star of the game. He scored 15 of the 19 points, and when a tally was needed he was called twice to turn the trick and only failed once. He kicked four goals out of six, and was successful at the only try on a free kick. His stellar work at right tackle was one of the chief reasons why the visiting team could not make the necessary yards. He also punted well, several times sending the ball over 50 yards.

Taft is still third in the race in the forecast of the independent newspapers and the betting in New York is three to one in favor of Wilson, with few takers.

"Wilson retains the lead in coast-to-coast vote on President." These are the headlines of the Chicago Record-Herald, (Independent) in giving its straw votes and forecasts in its Sunday edition.

REPUBLICANS TURN TO WILSON

Less than a week's active canvass in New York state has resulted in the enrollment of more than five thousand members in the Wilson National Progressive Republican league, of which Rudolph Spreckles is president. The league also has begun an aggressive campaign for members in Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Vermont, Connecticut and Pennsylvania. The result of its work showing that a large number of progressive Republicans will cast their votes for Governor Wilson on November 5. The results of the work in Pennsylvania are especially satisfactory, according to a letter from Powell Evans, Pennsylvania state chairman, to Rudolph Spreckles in New York. Mr. Evans says:

"We have enrolled about 5,800 members in this state since our committee began its work one week ago. There seems every promise that Governor Wilson will carry Pennsylvania."

Dr. R. C. Longfellow, head of the Toledo, Ohio, clinical laboratories, a life-long Republican, declares that Governor Wilson has an excellent chance of carrying Ohio because of the bad split in the Republican and third term ranks. He said the fact that Dr. Harvey W. Wiley was supporting Governor Wilson would influence the votes of thousands of medical men.

"Governor Wilson's championship of Dr. Wiley and the feeling that neither President Taft nor Colonel Roosevelt is in sympathy with a proper administration of the pure food laws will influence many medical men to vote for Governor Wilson," says Dr. Longfellow.

According to the Chicago Record-Herald, independent, Roosevelt has a clear lead in Illinois, which gives him a decided advantage over Taft in the Middle-West.

General Brown says he is afraid Congressman Cox will rewrite the constitution when he is elected governor. It is a safe bet that General Brown is the only elector in Ohio who doesn't know that the Governor has no power to make any changes in the constitution. The difference between the two candidates is that Congressman Cox will endeavor to have the mandate of the people given at the special constitutional amendments election carried out, while General Brown will do what he can to annul the verdict.

More than five thousand college men, representing every State in the Union are expected to participate in the convention and march in the parade in New York City October 19, as members of the Woodrow Wilson College Men's League. From the Pacific coast a delegation is coming by special train.

Mr. Taft and his friends are gaily expressing the hope that he will carry both those two little old Republican strongholds, New Hampshire and Vermont. What a grand victory this will be for the cause of the millionaire Trust beneficiaries! The two states contain all the way to 8 electoral votes.

"The laws of this country do not prevent the strong from crushing the weak. Because the strong have crushed the weak, only the strong dominate industry and the economic life of this country," said Wilson in an Illinois speech.

REPUBLICAN NEWSPAPER BOLTS TAFT

The Xenia Republican, for 25 years a staunch advocate of Republicanism and the most influential paper in Green county, has bolted President Taft and the Republican ticket, and will support Governor Woodrow Wilson.

In an editorial the paper in effect said that the Republican party in this campaign is in sympathy with the dangerous interests that have in the past prospered too greatly, often by corrupt means, under G. O. P. regimes. The party, it is asserted, has disintegrated until it contains less than a third of the voters. The editor says the people are entitled to a change and they only can get it by voting the Democratic ticket.

An excerpt from the editorial reads: "The political revolution which has been impending for years seems due. The people want a change. Are they justified. We think they are. * * * The section that still retains the name Republican contains less than one-third, perhaps not more than a fourth of the voters at the present moment. It offers no real opposition to the dangerous class that has prospered too greatly, and often by corrupt methods. * * * The editor of the Republican intends to vote for Wilson."

J. P. Morgan, money king and trust magnate, has testified that he contributed $150,000 to the Republican campaign fund of 1904 "for the good of the country and the business of the people." The only trouble is Morgan's idea as to what is "for the good of the country, etc." does not agree with the people's conception as to what is for the public welfare. Very few people believe with Morgan that the absorption of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company by the Steel Trust, in which he was interested, was "for the good of the country."

PRESIDENTIAL FORECAST KEEPS WILSON IN LEAD

The following is from the Sunday Enquirer's forecast of the political situation of the country, based on conclusions of trained observers, of leading independent newspapers:

President Taft has become noticeably stronger, Republicans in several states who had gone over to the Bull Moose camp having returned to the Taft fold. Just how extensive this movement may become is not indicated.

The President's friends are far more cheerful than they were a week ago. They say the tide has turned their way. They declare the shift back from the Bull Moose to the President will easily give Mr. Taft first position in the race before election.

They count on the support of those Republicans who, in many instances, had openly announced that, believing the President's election impossible, they would cast their ballots for Governor Wilson to insure the defeat of the Bull Moose candidate.

One of the interesting features of the week is the apparent gains made by the President in New England. Reports from special correspondents there indicate that if the election were held at this time he would be certain of carrying New Hampshire, about which there was some doubt, and that he would win Vermont which until the last few days was in the balance.

In the far West there has been a swing toward the president. Latest reports give him Utah and Wyoming. The Mormon church has decided to support him. This is a big asset in several mountain states.

But even with his apparently increased strength Mr. Taft still appears considerably behind.

The Bull Moose managers, privately expressing no great hope of victory for their candidate, say they have already insured the defeat of the President. In many parts of the country the third-term has gained.

Straw votes, aggregating approximately 70,000, taken in 29 states put Governor Wilson in first place. They indicate that he is leading in popular support in 23 states of the 29. The Bull Moose nominee leads in five and the president in one, Utah.

The same votes put the Bull Moose in second place in 18 states, Governor Wilson in six and the President in five.

But Wilson retains first place in all the other 24 states. He has a clear majority of over 100 in the electoral college.

The New York Herald's forecast of the political situation in the Empire state, from a strictly independent stand point, states that "Wilson will carry the state by a large plurality." The statement explains that "the candidacy of Roosevelt has split the Republican party almost in two, and for the first time in many years a Democratic candidate for President will lead in the counties north of the Harlem river."

THE HUMAN PROCESSION

NICHOLAS OF MONTENEGRO. 71 TODAY, WRITES OF LOVE.

"Amidst the flash of the swords
And the thunder of the cannon,
My eye, full of rapture, follows
Your look, goddess of love.
With tremblings and hope, and despair:
In palace and cabin I seek for
The sweet consolations of love."

How is that for sentimental poetry, considering that the author is a youth who is today celebrating his seventy-first birthday? True, the meter is about as uncertain as that of a gas company, and "canon" and "love," critics might allege, do not rhyme with any remarkable degree of precision. Yet, in justice, it must be remembered that the above lines are but a rough and literal translation from the original Servian, which is the language used by the poet, King Nicholas of Montenegro, ruler of the smallest royal realm in Europe.

King Nicholas—was formerly a Prince, but promoted himself a few years ago to the full rights and title of kingship—has always been handsomely and well-to-do. His little mountain capital of Cetinje has issued many works dealing with and singing the praise of real war. Now that he has something like a real war on his hands in the clashes between his people and the hated Turks, he has abandoned Mars for Venus, and his latest literary effort bears the title of "The Power of Love." One gathers from a perusal of the volume that Nicholas, despite his gray hairs and his dignity as a king and as the father-in-law of the king of Italy, is something of a glib dog with the ladies, and glories in it. He makes little effort to hide the fact that his love affairs, his said, that inspired Lehar to compose "The Merry Widow."

HOW TO VOTE THE JUDICIAL TICKET

Under the new non-partisan Judicial Ticket law, the candidates for the various judicial offices will appear on a separate ticket, with nothing to designate their political position. The following explanation of the ticket is given in order that Democratic voters and friends of the Democratic candidates may know how to mark their ballots. Those marked with the X are the Democratic nominees, and for these Democrats will vote. For convenience the voter should cut this out and keep it.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

About Mr. Spider's
Homemade Flying Machine

Said daddy to Jack and Evelyn, "They are having a lovely time now in Spiderland."

"Then we want to hear about it," cried Jack and Evelyn.

"Well, for one thing, the members of the spider family are, many of them, trying out their new flying machines."

"The other morning as I went into the garden Mr. Gray Spider hopped up on top of the raspberry bush."

"Ho, ho," he called, and at first I thought he was talking to me. Then I glanced across the path and saw there was another spider climbing up the blackberry bush.

"Going to take a little spin in the air this morning?" the gray spider called to the big fellow on the blackberry bush.

"Yes," replied the big fellow.

"Then I'll race you."

"His is very exciting," said I to myself. "Perhaps this is something new in spider fashions. I'll just watch."

The spiders climbed to the very top of the bushes. Then I noticed that both were spinning threads as if they were to weave webs, but instead of running round and round and twisting threads which he had spun each spider, after he had a little thread done, dropped off the bush, and the little breeze that came, blowing by lifted him up, and he flew off.

"The next morning I looked out for the spiders, but I got tangled in a couple of lines that were hung from the apple tree. Suddenly a big spider came dropping down from the top of the pear tree in a beautiful elevator which he had made by fastening one end of his thread to the tree and dropping himself from the other."

"Of course Mr. Spider scrambled out of my way as fast as he could, and then I asked a little bird what had come over the spiders."

"It's just fine, isn't it? We birds have such an elegant chance to get a spider for breakfast when they go sailing around like that," he twittered.

"You see, they are like that every fall. The spiders haven't wings, of course, but they make those cobwebs take the place of flying machines. Dear, yes; the wind carries some of them high in the air, and they light sometimes miles away from the places from which they started."

"The spider settles down where he drops. In that way spiders move into a new neighborhood when they get tired of the one in which they are living."

"I thanked the little bird for what he had told me. I hope I won't come home to find either you or Evelyn trying to follow the spider's example by jumping off the roof with a clothesline."

SMOOTH GAME WAS WORKED BY FAIR GRAFTER

Quarter Century Ago.

(From Advocate, Oct. 7, 1887.)

The fire department was called to extinguish a fire in North Fifth St. this morning. The house was owned by Dr. Walton.

Yesterday occurred the death of Mr. J. F. Kammerer, the merchant tailor.

Mr. Roderick Winery and Miss Mary E. Wilson were married at the residence of the bride's parents, in Granville avenue.

Marshal Rouse, a B. & O. brakeman, was caught between the bumpers in the yard yesterday and was injured severely through the chest.

Fifty Years Ago Today.

Oct. 7.

Hon. W. E. Gladstone, member of the British cabinet, declared it to be his opinion that the southern Confederacy had established its independence and the effort of the north "to subjugate the south" was hopeless.

General McClellan issued an official address urging his troops to loyally enforce the emancipation proclamation.

Gold $125; business flourishing and Wall Street giddy.

Twenty-five Years Ago Today.

A. Berge of Union street, a well known B. & O. engineer who has been connected with the service for the past 12 years, has been promoted to round house foreman at Bennington, Va. He will move his family to that city in the near future.

Old Clothing Wanted.
Any one having discarded clothing will kindly notify any member of the Whatsoever Circle of The King's Daughters. Call Auto phone 4284 or 1157 and will be called for. The sales room in the Lansing Block will open Wednesday and be open on Wednesdays till further notice.

"Ferry" a Grandpa.
The Advocate is advised from St. Ignace, Mich., of the advent of a son David Lewisson Beveridge Jr. into the family of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Beveridge. Mrs. Beveridge, formerly of the Advocate and now with the Petoskey News and Reporter, is pardonably elated.

ENDEAVOR TO LOCATE FRIENDS OF DEAD MAN

Chief of Police Blizard received a telegram Sunday from Undertaker Ernest A. Kelly at Roundout, N. Y., advising him of the death in that city of John O'Donnell or McDonnell or MacDonald, and asking the chief to endeavor to locate his relatives.

The telegram states that O'Donnell was 50 years old had brown eyes and gray hair and was smoothly shaven. According to the message the man was born in Newark or Licking county and has relatives here.

The efforts of the police to locate the relatives have failed so far but the search will be continued for a few days.

Any information regarding the man's relatives who received gratefully by the police department.

Late Monday afternoon another telegram from the undertaker notified the Newark police that O'Donnell's relatives had been located in another town. No further particulars were given.

Canny Mr. Man.
A man is not necessarily insane because he wears an outrageous tie. It might be a present from a rich aunt. In which case he is very much the reverse of insane.

SMOOTH GAME WAS WORKED BY FAIR GRAFTER

Mrs. Wallace Diment was the victim of a "grafter" who worked a smooth game in a small way Saturday afternoon. He called at the Diment Candy Store in the Arcade during Mrs. Diment's absence and displayed a small package stating that he was in a hurry to get to a car and that Mr. Diment had ordered a package of his mixture to keep the precipitation off windows in cold weather. The charges were 10 cents and rather than have the man wait for her husband Mrs. Diment paid the bill, but no longer than the fellow departed than she began to realize that he had been victimized. Unwrapping the package she discovered a piece of cheap soap and since then has been subject to a great deal of good natured chaffing at the hands of her friends. The fellow upon leaving the Diment store continued on his way seeking others upon whom he might work his smooth game.

* NEWARK HIGH SCHOOL NOTES *

The Juniors have selected a class pin of D. Auld & Co. of Columbus. The pin is a very pretty one, as will be evidenced in a few weeks.

In the Boys' Athletic Association meeting to elect officers there was a tie for president. Paul Grove was elected secretary, and Fred Nehls assistant manager of football. There will be another meeting tonight to ballot for president.

Next Friday morning the literary societies are to give separate programs, while in a few weeks from that time, Oct. 23, the Juniors will give a Halloween program before the entire school. The seniors are to give a public program, probably in the evening, at "Thanksgiving time."

EXPENDITURES IN CAMPAIGNS

Money Appears to Be a Necessity in Politics.

CLAPP COMMITTEE'S WORK.

Some interesting statements have been made by the witnesses—Bliss ignorant of his father's political activities—Charles R. Crane's costly method of getting revenge.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Oct. 5.—[Special].—Perhaps people will affect to be very much shocked because the Clapp investigating committee shows that it takes money to run political campaigns. Of course half the facts are not brought out. It is the business of campaign managers to forget the amounts of money spent and where the big contributions come from.

But there was one interesting statement in the testimony of Cornelius Bliss, Jr., or, rather, in the table of campaign expenditures, which was filed with his testimony. It showed that about $3,500,000 was collected and spent in the campaign of 1936. That was peculiarly interesting in view of the fact that everybody has claimed that Mark Hanna raised a campaign fund of something like $10,000,000 that year. Perhaps that was all exaggeration.

Eliminating Money.

In connection with the subject of campaign expenditures it is interesting to speculate whether money can be eliminated as a factor in politics. Can laws be passed which will make money a secondary consideration or give the poor man a chance? The probabilities are that men with money to spend in politics will find some way to get around all the laws that may be enacted. A man who will use money dishonestly will not hesitate to perjure himself in regard to the expenditure of money for political purposes.

In this connection there is a suspicion that the Clapp committee has produced an amazing amount of something might be perjury. How can these men say they know nothing about contributions of $100,000, from whom they came and how they were paid out? It looks as if the money question in politics has not changed much in all the years. The corrupt voters were looking for money, and the men with money to spend were looking for the corrupt voters.

A Man's Revenge.

There were some interesting developments which showed what a man would do for revenge. Charles R. Crane was appointed minister to China. He left for his post and had gone as far as San Francisco when he was called back and his place taken from him. He spent $70,000 to finance the campaign of one man who was opposing Taft and an equal amount to finance the campaign of another man who gave more promise of defeating Taft, according to a witness before the Clapp committee.

A Good Son.

That was a wise son of his father—I mean Cornelius Bliss. He knew absolutely nothing of his father's political activities, more particularly as to money matters. Bliss senior was treasurer of the Republican national committee during many campaigns. Young Bliss knew absolutely nothing about his father's work in that connection. That is the way to bring up a son—in politics.

Backed Away.

It was amusing to see the committee go almost to the verge of getting something and then back away. For instance, a Standard Oil man—and mind you, it was a Standard Oil contribution for which the committee was supposed to be gunning—went as far as to say that he came to Washington when legislation was pending and talked things over with the president. At this point the investigators took another line of inquiry.

Useless Information.

What might be called useless information was a statement in the papers recently that George B. Cortelyou refused to talk about the Roosevelt campaign either now or in past years—that Cortelyou would not say anything about politics or about politicians, or anything else. Strange! Why, Cortelyou has been in public life since Cleveland was president, and he has not said anything for publication in all that time. He is a man who has made it pay to keep his mouth shut. His only prototype is Frank H. Hitchcock, whom he trained.

Party Lines Weak.

Congressman Murray of Massachusetts was in Washington not long ago and remarked, apropos of political parties: "I have come to the conclusion, after campaigning in the primaries in Massachusetts, that people do not care very much about party lines this year. It seemed to me that men rather than parties were more important in the minds of the voters."

Cows should be kept comfortable at all times.

TABERNACLE

SUNDAY MORNING.

The sermon by Dr. Lyon yesterday morning was a masterly effort, scholarly throughout, and was delivered in Dr. Lyon's best manner. He discussed "The Basis of a Great Revival," which he believes is to be found in the "Lordship of Jesus." His text was taken from John 20:28—"And Thomas answered, My Lord and my God."

The song service for the morning was beautifully arranged, the chorus making an interesting appearance as its three hundred and fifty men and women grouped themselves about the pulpit. Prof. Mitchell directed, offering only hymns that were familiar to all, and leading the chorus choir in singing "All the World for Jesus," and "I Love to Tell the Story."

Dr. Lyon, in opening his sermon, called attention to the fact that every great revival in Christian history has had some great truth as its slogan, and expressed his belief that the next revival that is to touch this country will be based on "The Lordship of Jesus."

"The truth must be dynamic. It must be based absolutely upon the word of God. It must be comprehensive in its group of truth. It must appeal to all classes and conditions of society. It must be unified, and tend to draw Christians closer together. It must be practical, applicable to present day conditions and effective in producing a higher type of life and religious achievement."

The evangelist then proceeded to show that "the lordship of Jesus," the placing of the Master as the supreme power in our lives, meets all these requirements and is therefore the great dynamic truth that will do much to lead the world to Christ.

Among other things, Dr. Lyon said: "I believe there are a great many church members who, if the scriptures are true, have no more real hope of salvation than have the devils in hell. 'The lordship of Jesus' arranges the whole gamut of religious thought. He says, 'I am the life, the real life, the spiritual life. There is no spiritual life apart from the life of Jesus Christ. He is the one authority in the biology of the soul.'"

"Has your soul been vitalized? Have you received Jesus? If not, Jesus says that you are lost."

"We have to have some real foundation for faith. There must be some sort of last resort in law. Just so, there must be some supreme court in religion. Jesus said, 'I am the truth.' All teachings must be gauged by the teachings of Jesus Christ."

"I am not going to eliminate all of the Bible except the words of Jesus. It is a principle in law that when a judge cites the decision of another judge he gives that judge due credit for it. Jesus quoted from Deuteronomy, Daniel and David, and said, 'it is written.'"

"There is only one basis for brotherhood," said Dr. Lyon, as he discussed the unifying power of the lordship of Jesus. "A man may say, 'I belong to this organization—the Order of Goats, the Bucks, or the Screech Owls. Don't I pay dues. Friends, grips, pass words and oaths do not make the brotherhood of man: I will boost you, and if I stop boosting you will stop boosting, too. There is only one brotherhood."

"The mastership of Jesus must precede the fraternity of man."

"The lordship of Jesus is applicable to present day conditions. As our homes are, our nation is going to be; the home is the thermometer of our civilization."

The speaker scored the "women's clubs" where some fine lady gets up and reads a prepared paper on "the servant girl problem."

"You don't call the girls who go out to work in the factories or offices or department stores servant girls. But when a young woman goes into the home and does household work, there are a lot of those coiffed, simpering aristocrats who say, 'She doesn't belong to our set. She's a servant girl.'" found pictures of half dressed actresses. If people would appear in that way in your home you would show them the door. It's no wonder that you don't have a deeper spiritual life."

Dr. Lyon related of an experience of a ministerial friend who went to call on a member of his church. There was a sudden scurrying about in the house—and three women who had been playing cards, rushed into a clothes closet and had to stay there sweating during the minister's long visit.

"If Jesus Christ were to be a guest in many Newark church members' homes, there would be quite a change in your social life and you know it."

Christ as the lord of the bedroom was advocated by Dr. Lyon. "There would be no more tossing on the pillow at night. The relationship between husband and wife and parent and child would be changed. If I am going to find out the real character of the people of Newark, I will not ask the ministers. I'd ask the doctors. If you want to know why you have the gay, dissipated people in this town who are saying they don't believe in revivals, in more than one case, if the family doctor will tell the unvarnished truth about it, there is a reason for it. It's because of the ungodly, vicious lives of sin that many of these wives and husbands have been living."

Jesus Christ as lord in education was commended by the evangelist, although he declared that nowhere in his travels had he ever seen a better lot of Christians than the school teachers of Newark. "Put Jesus Christ first in business," he continued. "David Harek knew human nature when he said that 'too many men carried their hearts close to their breeches pockets.'"

"The practical atheism of the century is to think that the gospel of Christ is right for the ideal, but that it isn't practicable for everyday life."

"Why not take Jesus Christ as your lord in politics. You know that the party boss and ward heeler has more influence, not simply with ungodly men but with professing Christians, than has Jesus Christ. The ballot boxes ought to be just as sacred as the ark of the covenant was to the Israelites. 'How long is this country to remain in the grasp of corruption and monopoly? How long would the houses of prostitution, the saloons and the gambling joints last if the people of this country were Christians indeed.'"

A Newark saloon keeper told Dr. Lyon the other day that the "Christian voters are responsible for the saloons. 'He spoke the truth,' said the evangelist. You voters have to break your league with death and hell and wash your hands of complicity in the liquor business and announce your partnership with the Lord at the ballot box, or you will never have a revival in this city."

Dr. Lyon's sermon was warmly commended throughout the day and proved a vital factor in attracting the mammoth crowd of the evening service.

Dr. Lyon's logic is appealing, his sayings are terse and to the point, and he has above all else, that happy faculty of holding the attention of those with whom he is working.

SATURDAY NIGHT.

Dr. Lyon's sermon on Saturday night resulted in forty-five persons confessing Christ and entering enthusiastically into the spirit of the revival. The meeting was a highly successful one, teeming with interesting phases of Dr. Lyon's personality throughout, and supplemented by the tremendous power that Prof. Mitchell has in directing the musical work of the campaign. The chorus choir was ready for active work and rendered a number of special choruses, including "Someone's Last Call," and the famous "Awakening Chorus." Mrs. Powell's solo for the evening was "Drifting Away From God," a strong plea for the return of wanderers to the fold of the Master.

Dr. Lyon's sermon was preceded by an eloquent and powerful prayer by Prof. C. L. Williams, head of the English department of Denison University, Granville, who expressed his faith in the great work that is to be carried on by the evangelistic power of God in Newark and vicinity.

The theme, "The Wanderer's Return," was based on the life of Peter, who rejected the Lord, but returned, grief-stricken and heartbroken, to take up the work that Christ laid out for him. Finally, to be the one on whose faith the church of Christ was founded in the early days of Christian progress.

"In these days when there are so many pot house politicians, we admire men of vim, spirit, energy and zeal like Peter, men with a real personality," said the speaker. "The great trouble with people in these days is that they don't do right, but that they don't do anything. Put as much vigor in your Christian life as you do in serving the devil."

"Some of you people haven't enough of the love of Christ in your souls to bring a soul to Christ. You have just been warming benches. Yet, let those of the vice districts of Newark get out on His side and they will be a power in the kingdom of heaven."

"I like Peter's enthusiasm," said Dr. Lyon. "I like to watch men holler in the board of trade. I'd like to have a bunch like that in my prayer meetings. 'Some people say there is danger of zeal running away with knowledge.' A man recently said it was like sitting astride a runaway horse. Well, I'd rather sit that way than boldly, upright, astride a dead horse."

"If you think you are alright and never made a mistake, you might as well go home, because there is nothing I can do for you. God can do nothing for the man who thinks he is alright." Dr. Lyon emphasized this point by a very apropos story of a woman who knew of someone who never did anything wrong."

Her explanation of the phenomenon was that it was her husband's first wife.

"If you know yourself as God knows you and as your neighbors know you, you will be frank and admit that we have made mistakes and done wrong."

"Peter sinned against God," said the speaker. "First, he was overconfident. He was trusting too much in himself. This is apt to be the weakness of a strong life."

"Friends, if you know how, when and why it was that you went away from God, return to Him and He will see that you don't make the same mistake again. A swim will fall in the mud and lie there grunting, like a man hanging over a booze bar, but if he does he shakes his coat clean and goes on."

"Peter denied His Lord because he tried to follow Him from afar off. It's like the little girl who fell out of bed at night because she went to sleep too near where she went in. That's the trouble with so many of our church members today. Many people in their religious life are like the eggs in an incubator. They are just hatching. They pick the shell and say 'peep-peep' and then crawl back in and die."

"It takes all there is of a man, from the crown of his hat to the soles of his shoes, to be a Christian."

"Peter's denial was caused by his failure to show his true colors. He went in and sat down with godless associates and didn't let them know that he stood for Christ. Some people think they are religious and are trying to keep it secret. If it comes out all right, they'll publicly confess Christ. Friends, it will not come out right if you try to live your Christian life that way."

"The result of Peter's denial was assured. It will always be the same, no matter what the cause may be. He denied the Lord; he blasphemed and swore. There may be some of you tonight who say that you'll take Christ but won't confess him publicly. What would you women think if some men would say, 'I want you to be my wife but I don't want anybody to know about it?'"

"Many are denying Christ by putting some other god on the throne. They give Jesus second and third place. They love money, pleasure and appetite more than Christ. The result is always disaster and doom."

"There are too many dry-eyed confessions in these days. There was much more hope for weeping Peter outside the gate than for boasting Peter inside the gate. That is what Newark hasn't got yet. It may have to have lawlessness before those who are in league with the devil will realize that they must be converted and break with the work that they are doing."

Dr. Lyon then pleaded with his hearers to encourage those who returned to God. "How many of you, during the first weeks of this campaign, have sat there and listened to the preacher, taken a look on your face that would freeze a marble statue," Dr. Lyon's plea for those who wished to forsake their wandering from Christ was the result of a vast ingathering of converts, and resulted in one of the most enthusiastic meetings of the entire campaign.

CHILDREN'S MEETING.

Fully 800 children, with a liberal attendance of "grown ups," were present at Dr. Lyon's meeting for boys and girls on Saturday afternoon, when 139 of the youthful citizens of Newark came out on the side of right and accepted Christ as their life model.

Dr. Lyon's talk was very appealing, asking for lives that should be built big and broad at the base and constructed on the eternal rocks rather than on the sands of worldly foolishness.

"Don't make your life a sod-shanty. Don't build it in the mud when you can build it of the finest stone. Put good thoughts, good deeds, good motives in your lives and they will bring you joy through all eternity."

"The most important thing is to build a solid foundation. A whole lot depends on getting a good start. If you should build in the selfishness and sand of sin, the farther you go the worse off you are. Suppose you put millions of dollars into a pretty building and it began to sink in the mud; all that money would be wasted."

contrasted with that of ex-President McKinley, who, when he died, instead of scoffing at the name of God, started to sing 'Nearer, My God to Thee,' and pleaded that no one should harm his slayer."

"The gospel that was good enough for William McKinley is good enough for me. The gospel that was good enough for Lincoln before the battle of Gettysburg is the gospel that I want."

"God doesn't ask you to be Christian men. He asks you to be Christian boys and girls—just the happiest lot of boys and girls that Newark ever saw. He wants you to love and follow Jesus."

The sight that followed Dr. Lyon's invitation for those who wished to follow Christ to come forward, was indeed an inspiring one. A young boy, not over fifteen years of age, manfully came to the front, and with his eyes shining and his face beaming, said distinctly and proudly, "I want to be a Christian." He was followed by couples, threes, dozens, scores—until over a hundred and fifty had signified their desire to accept Christ, and as these youthful hearts expressed in unison a prayer for complete salvation, there was not an older heart in the entire audience that was not touched by this symbol of the great rejuvenating spirit of the Christ.

WOMEN'S MEETING.

The women's meeting at the First M. E. church was one that will long be remembered by the women of Newark. The entire auditorium and Sunday School room was filled to its utmost capacity. The splendid chorus did most effective work. The failure of the organ did not in the least distract Mrs. Powell, who displayed her musical ability in leading the chorus without its support. Mrs. Powell was unable to sing Gounod's O Divine Redeemer without the organ accompaniment. Instantly she selected the appropriate song, "Thy Will Be Done." She put her whole heart and soul into the message and prepared the hearts of the women for the address of Mrs. Allison, who emphasized the pre-eminence of Christ in the home life.

"The home is the unit of civilization. It is the social molecule. It is the most powerful force in the moulding of character. Anything that tends to disintegrate the home is an enemy to civilization. The home can be a power in proportion as we let Christ rule."

The pre-eminence of Christ in the business life, in the social life, Mrs. Allison spoke with deep conviction as she touched upon the social evils. The curse of the wine rooms and the red light district. If the votes for women will be willing to vote, let them be willing to vote. Others expressed the same opinion with hearty applause.

"If the harlot is a public benefactor let a monument be erected to that effect in our public squares. This character is not a necessity; if we must be surrounded by men who will not be men, let us banish them to the jungles of Africa where they belong," and here Mrs. Allison's tone changed from sternness to tenderness as she continued, "I believe in men, they are not all beasts, if one man can be a true noble man, others can. I know my husband was such a man."

Let Christ have the pre-eminence in our Christian life. Women show your colors. Range out the words of your colors, and let the words of every woman in the audience rise to her feet as the invitation was given to take a stand for better service for the Christ. The fight is on and the fight is between God and the devil. We cannot win unless we women give Christ the pre-eminence in our lives.

Prayer Meetings.

The neighborhood prayer meeting leaders are doing remarkably good work. They are reporting promptly and accurately. About sixty meetings are announced for Tuesday morning. There are yet three or four districts not organized. It is hoped to have every portion of the city provided for by the end of the present week. Meetings for Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock have been reported as follows:

CITY PATROLMAN WAS THREATENED WITH SHOTGUN

Denying the right of the officer to arrest him with a warrant in which his name was written incorrectly, and backing this alleged right with a villainous looking repeating shotgun, a man named Seigel, living in Eddy street, successfully resisted arrest—for a few minutes Monday morning.

Seigel was charged in the warrant with having received a dog, valued at $5, which had been stolen from Wm. H. DeJ. Patrolman Donley was sent to the Eddy street address to serve the document and found Seigel armed with a shotgun ready to defend his rights with the use of the weapon, if necessary.

He claimed that he paid $5 for the dog and did not propose to give up the animal, unless he was reimbursed.

Donley reported the matter to Chief of Police Blizard and the chief, with Captain Swank, Patrolmen Donley and Burke and Wagonman McClure, went to the Seigel residence and he submitted to superior forces and was lodged in jail. He will now face the additional charge of resisting and threatening an officer.

STOMACH MISERY JUST VANISHES

Time It! No Indigestion, Gas or Sourness Five Minutes After Taking "Pape's Digestin."

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache—this is indigestion.

A full case of Pape's Digestin costs only fifty cents and will thoroughly cure your out-of-order stomach and leave sufficient about the house in case some one else in the family may suffer from stomach trouble or indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases, then you will understand why dyspeptic people of all kinds must go, and why they usually relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. Digestin is harmless and tastes like candy, though each case contains power sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation in the blood all the food you eat besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most, is you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many Pape's Digestin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranky about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever try a little for indigestion or gastritis or any other stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and forever rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion.

THE BIRTHDAY CALENDAR.

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

Anniversaries will come, but will only exercise your character and make it stronger. Worries and impatience will bring on ill health and weakness. Pleasant times will come in your family and you will form close friendships.

Those born today will be fond of dress and inclined to be vain. They will be too generous for their own prosperity and, although clever, will keep themselves short of money by their careless habits.

BRYAN WILL SPEAK IN OHIO

Columbus, Oct. 7.—Chairman W. L. Finley of the Democratic executive committee, was notified today that William Jennings Bryan will make a speaking tour of Ohio, Oct. 12, 21 and 22.

UP ALL NIGHT FOR TICKETS TO BALL GAME

New York, Oct. 7.—Five thousand persons, 540 of whom had remained up all night, stormed the Polo Grounds this morning at the opening of the public sale of seats for the world's championship baseball series. Twelve thousand tickets in all were put on sale, 4000 for each of the three games scheduled for New York. If Saturday's game is not played the money will be refunded. Each purchaser was allotted two seats for any or all of the three games, but the bulk of the crowd bought tickets for the first game, to be played tomorrow.

PLENTY OF BUSINESS IN POLICE COURT

Mayor Has Lively Session Monday Morning and Disposes of Number of Cases.

Charged with beating his white wife, W. A. Rivera, a Porto Rican, was arrested Sunday by Patrolman Burke and Wagonman McClure. The arrest was made on complaint of Rivera's wife, who claimed that he had beaten her the most of the day while in a drunken condition. He was fined $10 and costs and paid the amount. Six other drunks and two loiterers were arraigned. The loiterers and two drunks were dismissed from custody, the others being fined.

A general fight among a number of colored people at the residence of Joe Smith, well known in police circles, called Patrolmen Burke and Abbott to the scene Sunday afternoon about 3 o'clock. Smith and three others, J. E. Pierce, C. Hide and Marie Stevenson were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct. Smith was charged with running a disorderly house. He was fined $25 and costs and Marie was given a like sentence, while the other pair was given fines of $5 and costs. Smith and the woman were ordered committed.

Jack Arrior, a saloonist in Wilson street, was ordered before Mayor Swartz Monday morning on a charge of permitting tippling and loafing at his place on Sunday. He stated that the loafing was done in the restaurant adjoining the saloon and that he had nothing to do with that part of the business. His case was continued until Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Chief of Police Blizard filed the affidavit against him.

Ed. Crist of North Newark is looking for the owner of a bicycle which was left against his garden fence on Saturday evening by a lad who had evidently stolen it. Crist was in his garden when the lad came along, riding the bike. Crist started out of the alley on an errand and the boy evidently thought he was after the wheel, for he jumped off, tossed it against the fence and took to his heels. He has not been seen since.

Henry Green, James Berg and Matthew Arnold were fined $5 and costs each before Mayor Swartz Saturday on a charge of shooting craps at U. G. Craig's place last Thursday night.

Oliver Lucas, charged with carrying concealed weapons, was given a hearing before Mayor Swartz Saturday afternoon and was bound over to the grand jury under $100 bond.

NO MORE CONSTIPATION

IT'S ME FOR OLIVE TABLETS!

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and Calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated tablets.

They cause the bowels and liver to act normal. They never force them to unnatural action.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are so easy to take that children do not regard them as "medicine" at all.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—a sick headache—torpid liver and constipated, you'll find quick sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Olive Tablets at bedtime. They're perfectly harmless.

Thousands take one every night just to keep right. Try them.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own." 10c and 25c per box.

The Olive Tablet Co., Columbus, Ohio.
